

Disaster Crisis Communications

The GOD'S CHILD Project and our affiliated and supported programs around the world* are often the first to be called upon in time of natural disaster or political upheaval, and to respond.

At this time, The GOD'S CHILD Project is not responding to any extraordinary crises. If there were, this is where you find out what is happening, what the most urgent needs are, and how your help is most needed. Also, emergency communications between in-field staff, volunteers, and home-base operation centers, friends, and family would be coordinated here.

Your love, prayers, and financial contributions for the Project's children, mothers, programs, and staffs keep us readied. Thank you for your ongoing support.
